

Neighbours in need: Canadians strongly support sending first responders to the US when disaster strikes.

National survey released July 2026
Field: July 28th to 30th, 2026
Submission 2026-3094

This research gauged the opinion of Canadians on their levels of support for Canadian first responders going to the US to help after major natural disasters.

Nanos conducted an RDD dual frame (land- and cell-lines) hybrid telephone and online random survey of 1,104 Canadians, 18 years of age or older, from July 28th to 30th, 2026 as part of an omnibus survey. The sample included both land- and cell-lines across Canada. The results were statistically checked and weighted by age and gender using the latest Census information and the sample is geographically stratified to be representative of Canada.

Individuals randomly called using random digit dialling with a maximum of five call backs.

The margin of error for this survey is ± 3.0 percentage points, 19 times out of 20.

This study was commissioned by the CTV News and the research was conducted by Nanos Research.
